Mr. Ralph Avallone
CEO
International Green Energy Council

Dear Ralph,

Thank you so much for speaking at Temple University on March 19, 2009.

As Executive in Residence for the day, your overview of the climate issues facing our planet, the explanation of the work of the International Green Energy Council and your discussion on "Building Green Businesses from the Ground Up and Sustaining Them" was very timely and relevant in today's economic and environmental challenges.

The discussion on the opportunities for students in the green economy, the green job corps, training and internship opportunities as well as the necessity for immediate action struck a cord with the students.

The feedback from students and staff was very positive and we look forward to working with you in the future.

Sincerely,
